Taoping Qiang Village: Featuring yellow-brown stone houses constructed along the hillside, with winding and intricate alleys, it is the best-preserved living fossil of Qiang architecture, carrying the ancient history and remarkable wisdom of the Qiang people.

Day 3 Li Xian 195km Hongyuan*BLD

Emotang Flower Sea Scenic Area(Include Ticket + Shuttle): A natural scenic area combining highland grasslands and flower seas, renowned for its vast meadows, seasonal blooms, and Tibetan cultural charm.

Chazhen Liangzi: Chazhen Liangzi is the watershed dividing the Yellow River and the Yangtze River basins. A marker stands at the mountain pass, where visitors can symbolically “step into two river systems at once.” From here, one can gaze upon the magnificent scenery of grasslands intertwined with rolling mountains and experience the wonder of this natural geographical divide.

Note: From June to August 15, visits will be to the E'metang Flower Sea Scenic Area. From August 16 to October, this will be replaced by a visit to Moon Bay Scenic Area (subject to the scenic area's official opening announcements).

Day 4 Hongyuan 260km Diebu*BLD

Wache Pagoda Forest(On car view): Located in Wache Town, Hongyuan County, Sichuan, this pagoda forest was built to commemorate the chanting and blessing ceremonies of the Tenth Panchen Lama. More than a hundred pagodas of varying sizes stand alongside vast stretches of prayer flags. The sea of fluttering flags resembles a giant vessel setting sail, creating a solemn and magnificent scene beneath the grassland sky—an awe-inspiring fusion of faith and prairie landscape.

Huahu Wetland(Included Buggy): An important water conservation area in the upper reaches of the Yellow River, Huahu Wetland replenishes approximately 4.4 billion cubic meters of water annually and serves as a vital ecological barrier for the Yellow River basin. It perfectly embodies the ethereal beauty and vast openness of “China's Most Beautiful Wetland,” standing as the Yellow River's silent yet abundant breath.

The First Bend of The Yellow River(Include Escalators): A famous natural landscape in the upper reaches of the Yellow River, renowned for its river winding like a crescent moon, and hailed as the “First Bend of the Yellow River.”

Day 5 Diebu 110km Langmusi*BLD

Zhagana Scenic Area: In Tibetan, it means “Stone Box.” Hidden in Gannan, Gansu, it is a secret stone realm. Four mountains surround the Tibetan village, resembling a majestic fortress naturally built from cliffs. The village, terraced fields, and mist intertwine; at sunrise, golden light bathes the landscape, creating a scene that seems otherworldly. It is a paradise for hikers and a pure place to experience the authentic life of the Amdo Tibetans, earning it the reputation of “a place where immortals reside.”

Langmusi: A sacred site of Tibetan Buddhism, it consists of two ancient temples with profound religious and cultural heritage. Here, monks are abundant, prayer flags flutter in the wind, and the continuous chanting creates an atmosphere of solemnity and sanctity, allowing visitors to deeply feel the reverence of Tibetan Buddhism.

Day 6 Langmusi 228km Ngawa County*BLD

Awancang Wetland: An ecological gem at the first bend of the Yellow River. Here, waterways thread through boundless grasslands, forming the spectacular and picturesque “Gongsai Erkamu Dao” wetland landscape. With vast skies and rolling plains, and the melodious sound of pastoral songs, it serves as an important water conservation area for the upper reaches of the Yellow River. Known as “the kidney of the Earth,” it showcases the raw, majestic beauty of highland wetlands.

Niangma Monastery: Located deep within the Awancang Wetland in Maqu, Gansu, it houses the world's largest prayer wheel. The temple's golden roof gleams magnificently, harmonizing with the expansive grasslands and the winding Yellow River. The serene and solemn temple, with its enormous prayer wheel, carries countless devout wishes, making it a spiritual landmark within the wetland.

Gemo Monastery: Officially named “Gemo Temple Huiyuan Pagoda,” it is renowned for its grand architecture blending Tibetan and Han styles and its eight-story Faxi Tower that soars into the clouds. Inside, it houses China's tallest indoor Maitreya Buddha statue. The temple is not only an important Buddhist academy but also a museum preserving countless sacred relics, making it a magnificent center of religion, art, and culture in the Amdo Tibetan region.

Day 7 Ngawa County 342km Hongyuan*BLD

Lianbaoyeze: In Tibetan, it means “The Dignified Jade Peak.” This mysterious mountain cluster lies at the junction of Sichuan, Gansu, and Qinghai. The peaks rise like swords, piercing the clouds, while hundreds of glacial lakes, emerald-green like jewels, are scattered among the mountains. The waters of Zhagana Lake mirror the jagged, bizarre rocks, creating a landscape both magnificent and surreal. Not only is it the ancient battlefield of the legendary King Gesar, but it is also a secret paradise sought by hikers and photographers. Often hailed as “a real-life World of Warcraft,” it showcases the most untamed and primal geological wonders of the Qinghai-Tibet Plateau.

Day 8 Hongyuan Approx. 3.5h Chengdu ✈️ Return*BL/MOB

Lian Dao Ba Grassland(On car view): Composed of Wide Alley, Narrow Alley, and Well Alley, it blends Qing Dynasty courtyards with modern elements in blue-gray brick architecture.

Kuanzhai Alleys: Comprising three parallel lanes—Wide Alley, Narrow Alley, and Well Alley—this historic district blends Qing Dynasty brick-and-tile courtyards with modern fashion elements, creating a harmonious mix of tradition and contemporary style.

Chengdu SKP: Located in the bustling southern high-tech district of Chengdu, it is Asia's flagship luxury department store. With its unique “park + shopping” concept, it seamlessly integrates luxury retail, art curation, and underground park landscapes, creating an unprecedented three-dimensional fashion and art space. The Tower of Life serves as the visual centerpiece of the ground-level park—it is not a traditional sculpture but a series of massive functional art installations.

People's Park: A century-old landmark in Chengdu and a microcosm of local life. The Heming Teahouse buzzes with lively chatter and serves as the heart of the old Chengdu tradition of “bai longmen zhan” (friendly, casual storytelling). In Shaocheng, the Wannei Bonsai Garden offers elegant displays, and the memorial plaque commemorating the 1911 Autumn Revolution stands solemnly. Visitors can row boats, enjoy ear-picking services, admire flowers, and fully immerse themselves in the most leisurely and authentic aspects of Sichuanese urban culture.

Note: 1) At Jiuhuang Station, the tour leader and guide will assist guests in loading their luggage onto the high-speed train. Upon arrival at Chengdu East Station, a “Little Red Hat” assistant will help guests retrieve one piece of luggage.

2) If the fruit-picking season has ended, the activity will be replaced with a visit to People's Park (including tea and six-compartment dim sum)

3) The peach-picking season runs roughly from June to August. Seasonal fruits—such as peaches, plums, and grapes—may be picked, with the exact fruit depending on the farm's availability.

End of journey, return flight to home.
